GERMANY'S RECOVERY

(New York News-Record.)

"Germany is recovering more rapidly from the war's effects than almost any one of the allies, and her trade revival is far greater than I had dreamed it could possibly have been at this time."

This statement was made by PaulAlberti, a prominent insurance banker, with offices at 50 Fine street. Mr.
A"exit has just returned from an automobile tour of Germany, where he travsied from Hamburg to Meta, staying in Frankfort and Berlin and discussing the industrial condition of Germany with a large number of commercial leaders.

"The Germana," Mr. Alberti stated,
"are now importing Cotton.

"The Germana," Mr. Alberti stated,

tendency points toward cotton imports for next year which will be recordbreaking in their amounts. As as example of the present activity in this trade, I might state that I recently insured an 18,008,000 cotton shipment

He has realized already that Germany offers opportunities for the future, doilar for dollar, which should by no means be overlooked.

"The railroads are constantly being improved, and rolling stock, which was sadly impaired during the war, is being rapidly junked or put back into first-class shape. Roadbeds are being repaired, new bridges being built and locomotives are constantly being given new leases on life.

"Speaking agriculturally again, I might add that it is the unanimous opinion in agricultural centers over there that the promise of the whole cereal harvest is brighter than in any other season since the Tederation of the German empire."

Mr. Alberti believes that tife present government in Germany cannot last long, and that, after all, a limited monarchy, such as England possesses, is best for the German people.

"The Germana as a people are used to being led. They are not the sort who take kindly to self-government. You cannot establish a republic in a day. The present party will goon fall, and when it does a complete reorganization will take place for the betterment of the whole nation."

A man can learn much of the world's business along La Salle street. In the past seventy-two-hours, one man arrived from lowa and predicted a record 450,000,000-bushel corn crop for that state. He also said that lowa is afraid of cheap corn and is worrying over high-priced land. Another traveler, from Illinois, cutlines a small corn crop of 250,000,000 and blames Illinois for neglecting fertilizer and cattle. A Chicago man, touring Canada, wires that Canada will not produce above 220,000,000 bushels of wheat. Only a fair crop. The same man guessed the United States speing wheat yield at 255,000,000 bushels, and that was close to the official figure.

The men who are visiting La Salle street are not buillish. They are steeped in the idea that the United States is entering a new era, the era of reconstruction.

On Aug. 10 a Chicago man blew in from the south, bearish on, cotton and provisions. He orated: "The south looks for a 13,000,000-bale cotton crop. The cotton rally is marvelous. August is the hard month for the crop, but this year the crop will win out. Banks at Memphis are carrying 300,000 bales of low grade cotton and the southern cities are filled with sellers, not buyers. Cotton loans are of the thirty-day kind and the south will have to sell. The bld idea of boost the price and hold the crop' is not fashion-able."

ORDERS REORGANIZATION

Washington, Aug. 17—Reorganiza-on of the bureau of immigration has en ordered by Assistant Secretary of their Post Labor Post.

First steps in the reorganization were taken by Assistant Secretary Post on July 21, when Commissioner General of immigration Caminetti was shorn of the authority which he had exercised for some time past of making recommendations appeal and, warrant cases passing through his hands. appeal and warrant cames from the commissioner-general of immigration to

FOLLOWED BY RALLIES WITH NOT MUCH CHANGE

vere break was followed by moderate railies in the cotton market during today's early trading. The opening was steady at a decline of 7 points to an advance of 19 points, near months being relatively easy under overnight selling orders, with October selling at 23.60c and December at 28.50c. These offerings were goon absorbed, however, and the market turned firmer on covering, which was promoted by a somewhat more cheerful view of European conditions and continued unfavorable weather in the south. October sold up to 23.92c and December to 28.98c, or about 23 to 30 points net higher. Some of the early selling was probably based on the lower ruling of southwestern spot markets yesterday, but today's reports from both Liverpool and the south indicated a firmer basis.

After the early advance to 30.08c for October and 23.08c for December, prices reacted on rumors of less favorable Posita news and renewed liquidation. October sold off to about last night's close, but the decline brought in renewed covering and prices held fairly steady around midday with active positions some 10 to 15 points net higher. Southern interests were credited with selling here on the early advance, but private reports from the south said that offerings were smaller and that south Texas was not offering anything above middling because of the showery weather.

The market showed a good deal of nervousness during the early afternoon, but there seemed to be buying orders from either the trade or shorts around 29.70c for October or about 5 points net higher while January was 3 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON-

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

New Orleans, Aug. 17.—After hesitation on the opening call and losing 6 to 7 points on the uear months as the result of poor cables, the cotton market today rose on a somewhat better feeling regarding European politics and reports of too mach rain in the beit. At the end of the first hour of business prices were 21 to 29 points over the close of yesterday, October first fell off to 28.65c and then reacted to 29.00c.

Many points in the beit wired in that the crop was deterioriating because of too much rain and insect damage and the demand increase because of them sending prices 32 to 41 points over the close of yesterday. October touched 29.10c. Late in the morning less strength was displayed and realizing by shorts reduced the gains 18 to 23 points.

Liquidation increased and was not well received. Bearish traders commenced to press against the market and there was further response so that late in the day the trading months were 18 to 37 points under the close of yesterday. October trading down to 28.53c.
